

April 26, 2018

Unifor is pushing for workers' rights and setting up front line defense across the country. Together we are engaging, connecting, and keeping up the work with government relations, a hospitality summit, solidarity rallies for striking workers, and provincial election town halls.

WHAT'S HOT

Unifor's newest hospitality members, from local 7575, found a home here in February. Watch this video about their

TAKE ACTION

Take a moment to sign the petition to protect forestry jobs from Trump's duties story.

and read what workers have to say.

READ MORE

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Hospitality workers met at summit to explore organizing strategies, celebrate victories, and plan for the future.

READ MORE

After the tragic incident in Toronto earlier this week, Unifor expresses condolences and support.

READ MORE

Domestic violence leave must be legislative paid leave in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, said Unifor.

READ MORE

It's election season in Ontario and we're organizing to win with a member-based campaign to defeat Ford

READ MORE

Unifor applauds the scrapping of a study on airport privatization, which would increase costs and risks for the public.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Tri-union bargaining secures tentative agreement for northern hospital group with wage increases and no concessions.

READ MORE

Thousands showed solidarity in a high-energy community rally for striking workers at Caesars Windsor casino

READ MORE

Lear Ajax workers are in a legal strike position on April 28 after voting 99 per cent in favour of a strike.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

RESOURCES

The federal government must protect paper mills from Trump's tariffs, said Unifor, B.C. Premier John Horgan, and mayors.

READ MORE

Our disaffiliation from the CLC has inspired questions, like what it means for labour councils. Read our letter here.

READ MORE

