

January 7, 2021

Unifor mourns loss of member and Windsor PSW worker Sheila Yakovishin, Unifor calls for Ontario to assume control of a LTC home, airlines demand assistance to deal with new COVID testing requirements, and Alberta members stand up for the right of workers to be reinstated after injury, plus Unifor welcomes funding for offshore workers.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Unifor members marked Human Rights Day 2020 with the first online bystander intervention training offered by the union.

READ MORE

On January 13, Unifor Education will host a webinar to hear from Indigenous leaders about identifying the systemic racism and barriers to proper health care. Sign up now.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Unifor mourns Sheila Yakovishin, PSW in Windsor LTC home, lost to COVID-19.

READ MORE

Staffing levels at The Village of St. Clair are below crisis levels and Unifor is demanding action from the provincial government.

READ MORE

Airline industry needs additional financial support given new COVID-19 testing requirements.

READ MORE

Read the new factsheet about changes to Alberta workers' right to be reinstated after injury.

READ MORE

Joint federal and provincial efforts to secure funding for Canada's East Coast offshore oil industry should help protect good jobs.

READ MORE

Unifor and Aleafia Health partner on ground-breaking medical cannabis coverage.

READ MORE

Sobeys Kincardine workers achieve wage and benefit gains in new contract.

READ MORE

Winnipeg Free Press workers see the pay cuts they took at the start of the pandemic returned.

READ MORE

VIA Rail Bargaining Update: December 18, 2020. Talks are stalled and will continue into January 2021.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Unifor's National Office has moved to 115 Gordon Baker Road, just across the street. Update your address book:

READ MORE

RESOURCES

In 2021, let's all resolve to Build Back Better. Revisit Unifor's plan to rebuild Canada's economy.

READ MORE