

November 7, 2024

Energy workers launch new leak mitigation campaign, National Executive Board vows to protect Canadian workers under the next U.S. president, Saskatchewan members volunteer on election day, tickets on sale for Winterfest, Local 2458 members on strike head back to the bargaining table, Unifor Skilled Trades council meets in Thunder Bay, Best Theratronics strike hits six-month mark, members at Sollio Agriculture reach new agreement, and more.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Unifor members across Saskatchewan were engaged in the provincial election to ensure that workers' interests were heard in the campaign.

WATCH VIDEO

Unifor members are invited to WinterFest at Canada's Wonderland on Dec. 21 or 22. Get your tickets today.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Unifor's Energy Sector Council has launched the "Keep it in the Pipe" campaign, calling for comprehensive methane reduction regulations in Canada's oil and gas sector.

READ MORE

Unifor vows to protect Canadian workers from protectionist policies promised under the second Trump administration in the United States.

READ MORE

Striking Clear Medical Imaging workers are returning to the bargaining table.

READ MORE

Unifor National Skilled Trades Council delegates focus on maintaining strong trades for the future with an eye towards developing the next generation of Skilled Tradespeople.

READ MORE

Best Theratronics continues to refuse to negotiate as the ongoing strike by workers at its Kanata, ON facility hit the six-month mark on Nov. 1.

READ MORE

The Health, Safety and Environment Conference armed members with tools, knowledge and a network of support so they can build safer workplaces for all.

READ MORE

Unifor questions the decision by Bell to acquire American company Zipy Fiber following a year of devastating cuts in Canada.

READ MORE

The Governor General awarded the Star of Courage to two armed forces members who rescued Unifor members on the Atlantic Destiny in 2021.

READ MORE

National President Lana Payne visits the Red River in Winnipeg to lend a hand and discuss the Drag the Red project with the coordinator Jill Wilson.

WATCH VIDEO

Unifor and PPWC, the two largest unions in the pulp and paper sector, met in Vancouver to discuss pattern bargaining and select a target employer.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Workers at Sollio Agriculture, a feed mill in New Minas,

The Canadian Air Navigation Specialists Association-Unifor Local

N.S., have unanimously ratified a new four-year collective agreement.

READ MORE

1016 filed for the right to strike and is preparing to file a grievance for contracting out issues with NAV Canada.

READ MORE