

unILINK

February 6, 2025

Unifor calls on members to unite and stand on guard as new tariff deadline looms, support for Toronto retail workers, Black History Month events, Unifor joins provincial trade panels to fight for workers, International Women's Day preparation, Unifor demands action for Walmart truck drivers, and new contracts for Locals 200 and 672.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Join Unifor to celebrate Black History Month with an inspiring event to recognize the important contributions of members.

READ MORE

Unifor is urging members to oppose Toronto's proposed holiday shopping exemptions, which would force more retail workers to work on statutory holidays.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

The U.S. tariff deadline is paused but Unifor's work to protect jobs and build a stronger economy pushes forward.

READ MORE

Unifor calls on Canada's grocery giants to prioritize Made in Canada products to protect jobs and the economy.

READ MORE

Unifor's Auto Council and Independent Parts Supplier Council issue a joint statement vowing to fight to protect factories and jobs.

READ MORE

Unifor will take the concerns of workers to government taskforces aimed at safeguarding jobs in B.C. and Manitoba.

READ MORE

Atlantic Regional Director Jennifer Murray fights for NL jobs on Premier Furey's trade roundtable.

READ MORE

International Women's Day is in one month. Submit your local's events and order posters now to be prepared!

READ MORE

Bargaining for Walmart truck drivers in B.C. has been delayed after the company was purchased by Canada Cartage.

READ MORE

Unifor is deeply disappointed by Quebec Premier François Legault's statements on the impact of U.S. tariffs.

READ MORE

Secure your spot in Unifor's Pride Activist Course in Port Elgin. See the full PEL schedule online and sign up today.

READ MORE

Unifor mourns the loss of Road Transportation Director Scott Bateman.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Unifor Local 672 members at SGS Petroleum Management have

Unifor Local 598 Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union secured a new three-year collective agreement with strong wage gains.

READ MORE

Unifor Local 200 members at Plains Midstream in Windsor have ratified a new three-year collective agreement.

READ MORE

workers voted to approve a new collective agreement.

READ MORE