

February 24, 2022

Talks resume for Sea to Sky bus drivers in Whistler, Striking Oakville bus drivers take their fight to town hall, Unifor wears pink to stand up to bullies, sign up for our IWD event, Nova Scotia long term care workers react to pay hike, Ford's misuse of WSIB funds, an online concert celebrates Black History Month, Bell Aliant talks open and school bus drivers reach a deal.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Watch what happened as Oakville transit drivers with Unifor Local 1256 began strike action last week, fighting for fair wages as inflation hits a 30-year high.

WATCH VIDEO

March 8th is International Women's Day. Register now to join us for an IWD Online Event to support and learn more about making our workplaces and communities more equitable.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Striking members of Unifor Local 114 and B.C. Transit's third-party contractors will resume contract negotiations this week.

READ MORE

Unifor members wore pink on Pink Shirt Day stand up to bullies. Check out our Facebook album featuring our members wearing pink.

READ MORE

Victory for long-term care workers! Listen to Unifor member Shelly DeViller react to the 23% pay raise for Continuing Care Assistants in Nova Scotia.

WATCH VIDEO

Unifor condemns Premier Ford's repeated misuse of injured worker's WSIB funds to cut cheques for business owners.

READ MORE

Fish harvesters on the East and West Coasts speak out against new federal Fisheries and Oceans Minister who suggested fish harvesters find new careers.

READ MORE

To celebrate and to spread community awareness of Black History Month, Unifor is proudly sponsoring Black History Month Tours, which showcases young, Black talented Canadian musicians.

READ MORE

With 60% of the world's workforce employed in the informal economy, the focus of the World Day of Social Justice is addressing precarious work and the rights of gig workers.

READ MORE

Contract negotiations kicked off for 1,700 members who work for Bell Aliant across Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland and Labrador.

READ MORE

Unifor school bus drivers have reached a tentative agreement with multinational operator First Student for drivers in the eastern GTA and Durham Region.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

RESOURCES

Unifor Western Regional Director Gavin McGarrigle explains why striking Sea to Sky transit workers went to Whistler Village to hold a community support rally during the height of ski season.

WATCH VIDEO

Repetitive Strain Injuries result in the highest frequency of lost-time injuries in Canada. Read the fact sheet and learn how to avoid RSIs.

READ MORE