

unILINK

September 27, 2018

Live coverage from Gander, end of the strike at Oldcastle and bargaining wins at Air Canada and Weechi-it-te-win Family Services – this and more awaits you in this issue of Unilink. We're also talking politics from Regina to New Brunswick this week.

WHAT'S HOT

Couldn't make it to Gander but want to see updates? Watch the livestream

TAKE ACTION

Add the Support Unifor 597 frame to your profile picture on Facebook, Twitter and from yesterday's rally at D-J Composites here.

READ MORE

Snapchat and show support, using
#Solidarity597

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Hundreds of union activists and supporters turn the table on managers and scabs in Gander, effectively locking them out.

READ MORE

Unifor pledges to fight to ensure that
New Brunswick's next government fulfills a mandate set by working people.

READ MORE

The sudden sell-off of two publicly-owned Sask Energy gas plants breaks election promise made to the people of Saskatchewan

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Bargaining underway between Air Canada and Local 2002, representing 4,800 Air Canada Customer Sales and Service Agents.

READ MORE

Local 6000 members ratified an agreement, ending an 11-week strike at Oldcastle BE, Pointe-aux-Trembles

READ MORE

Collective agreement awarded for 3,000+ employees in Nova Scotia's health administrative professional bargaining unit.

READ MORE

Local 324 members ratify first contract with Weechi-it-te-win Family Services, with wage increases and better benefits.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Nearly 500 members were contacted during the member-to-member campaign that helped the NDP win a recent Regina provincial by-election.

READ MORE

RESOURCES

Use this Local Union Mentoring Program guide for tips and suggestions on how to get formal mentorship programs up and running.

READ MORE

