

August 23, 2019

Unifor Constitutional Convention delegates vow to do “Whatever It Takes” to fight the rise of the right as the union’s #StopScheer campaign is launched. Thousands march in Quebec City to protest Bell Canada job cuts and Unifor takes action to support equity for women hockey players.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Thousands of workers rally against job erosion outside Bell Canada's Quebec City headquarters.

READ MORE

StopAndrewScheer.ca website launched to provide members and activists with tools and resources needed to organize, fight, and win this fall.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

Convention was a time to renew the push back against the right-wing agenda in elections, at the bargaining table, in organizing drives and in the fight for gender equity.

READ MORE

When you take on Unifor you can expect a fight, Unifor National President Jerry Dias tells delegates at Unifor Constitutional Convention.

Jerry Dias acclaimed and Unifor has first woman as National Secretary-Treasurer.

MORE

READ MORE

Founder of Me Too movement says organized labour has key role to play in advancing workplace diversity.

Decades of activism recognized as delegates pay tribute to Bob Orr.

READ MORE

READ MORE

Hockey stars Coyne, Spooner and Poulin thank Unifor for their solidarity and urge members to support women's sports.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

Unifor delegates adopt new bargaining priorities at 2019 Convention.

READ MORE

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Retired Lieutenant-General Roméo Dallaire accepts Unifor Nelson Mandela Award.

READ MORE

RESOURCES

As Unifor gears up for the upcoming federal election find out how you can take action. Download 'Workers' Power – Unifor and politics in the Age of Disruption'.

READ MORE

Unifor